CAPE BYRON RUDOLF STEINER SCHOOL
CODE OF CONDUCT - KINDERGARTEN

At Cape Byron Rudolf Steiner School (CBRSS) we strive to foster a caring and responsive environment in our relationships with one another. We believe that each child has the right to play and learn to the best of their ability in a supportive environment.

The CBRSS Code of Conduct – Kindergarten provides behaviour guidelines for children in Kindergarten.

At our School:
- We take care of each other, our environment, and ourselves.
- Everyone is helped to take responsibility for his or her own behaviour.

In the CBRSS Kindergarten, we strive to understand and work with the nature and development of the young child. The daily routine follows a rhythmic approach allowing for a balance of ‘breathing in’ and ‘breathing out’ activities. Time for individual choice of activity, (including free play indoors and in nature) and whole group activity, supports the child to form positive and nurturing relationships with familiar adults and with their peers at a time when they are learning to become ‘appropriately social’ beings.
Consistency in the rhythm allows the child to know, out of their habit life, what is expected of them and of others.

What happens if the code of conduct is not followed?

For more information, see Action Behaviour Management in Kindergarten – Procedure.

NOTE:

The school expressly prohibits the use of corporal punishment in disciplining students/children attending the school. The school does not sanction the administering of corporal punishment by non-school persons, including parents, to enforce discipline at the school.

NOTE: This Code of Conduct – Kindergarten should be read in conjunction with the CBRSS Behaviour Management– Policy.

This document may be amended or altered over time or as the result of changes in law.
