Cape Byron Rudolf Steiner School
International Student Exchange Policy

Policy:

Cape Byron Rudolf Steiner School supports the concept of international student exchange as exposure to different cultures is seen as a very positive experience for our students.

Applications for exchange must have written approval from the principal before any exchange arrangements can be made. Applications will be assessed in the order in which they are received.

The period of exchange must be not more than three months.

Generally, the school will only approve International exchange for students in Year 10.

Criteria:

- Applicants for exchange must have all school fees paid or be on an approved payment plan with no arrears.
- Applicants must demonstrate an acceptable history of academic achievement and positive behaviour.
- The school will generally only accept one return exchange student in a class at any given time.
- The needs of the applicant’s class will be considered (an application for exchange may be denied if the exchange is not seen to benefit the class).
- The applicant’s family must commit to paying full fees for the period of the applicant’s absence (no additional fees will be charged for the return exchange).
- The applicant’s family must agree to meet any additional costs for the return exchange student (camps, excursions etc.)
